"To be or not to be—that is the question"—which Campbell must answer for herself at the polls this week—Friday, March 27, to be exact. Whether or not Campbell retains representation on the union high school board of trustees is a proposition answerable only by a superior vote; the vote is here, and every fair-minded citizen will present himself at the polling place to see that the greatest tax-paying district in the combine maintains its position non the board of trustees.

—VOTE FRIDAY, MARCH 27—

It is the avowed intention of the opposition to out all progressives from the board, and to that end they have circulated erroneous reports of extravagance, ill-founded rumors of an immediate bond issue, and what-not. They have sought to undermine the present board with unauthorized statements purported to have come from that board, and have decried the purchase of the Hagelin tract as a future high school site, asserting that $34,000 had thus been misspent (when as a matter of fact taxpayers were fortunate in securing this excellent property for an even $30,000, paid out of the surplus, with no additional taxation).

—VOTE FRIDAY, MARCH 27—

The board as it now stands is a smoothly functioning machine. J. E. Wiesendanger and Carl B. Field, incumbents, who seek re-election, are valuable assets to the organization. Mr. Wiesendanger has served long and faithfully the people of the combined union district. His sound judgment and unimpeachable integrity will, we are sure, be recognized at the coming election, for he is popular in all sections of the community. Mr. Field is likewise a valuable man to the board—an assertion hard to successfully contradict, inasmuch as the other trustees specifically requested his appointment to the post held by the late John L. Hagelin, who resigned shortly before his death. Too, he is Campbell's only representative, and as such should receive the support of every citizen who is not anxious to relinquish all vestige of representation in a matter vitally concerning us all.

—VOTE FRIDAY, MARCH 27—

It is not the intention of these men to call for an immediate bond issue. The futility of such a move at this time is apparent, and much as we need a new school these, as well as other members of the board, believe that the time is not quite ripe for it. Eventually, however, we will be forced to construct an adequate high school, and we must prepare for that time by retaining on the board men possessed not only of vision, but business acumen as well. Such are the incumbent candidates; think well before you discard them.

—VOTE FRIDAY, MARCH 27—

That the leaders of the opposition are either childless or the parents of post-high school sons and daughters is quite well known. They are apparently built along selfish lines, believing that anything is good enough for the other fellow's youngsters, regardless of the strides made along educational paths in other communities. Even if times were booming we doubt if they would lend their support to a new high school project.

—VOTE FRIDAY, MARCH 27—

These aforementioned kickers, among other things, cry about the present high school tax rate. If they want something to shed real tears about they should move to Los Gatos, Burbank, Sunol or Willow Glen, where the rate is well over a dollar, and in

Dr. Macklin Of
Stanford Addresses
Parent-Teachers

Mrs. J. W. Knowles, president, presided over the monthly dinner meeting of the high school P. T. A. last Tuesday evening at the high school. It was decided at a brief business session that the club will sponsor a card party some time in May. N. O. Best and Mrs. M. H. Hughes were appointed the committee in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Knowles then introduced the speaker, Dr. Theodore Macklin of Palo Alto, whose subject was "Farmers' Co-operative Selling Plan." Dr. Macklin had a message not only for the club, but for everyone. He urged the P. T. A. to come to the assistance of the farmers in teaching them the need of co-operation in their problems. He stated that the rural school must be the key that unlocks the door of economic security and stability in the agricultural business.

Mrs. R. Lear, Mrs. S. N. Hedegard and Mrs. M. Bollinger were delegates to the Foothill Council meeting held at the Jefferson school Monday. The association voted to send Mrs. Knowles to the P. T. A. state convention in San Francisco in May.

The associations of the sixth district will meet in convention in Campbell Monday and Tuesday, April 13 and 14. The second section of the Congregational Guild and the Young Women's Service club will serve a luncheon and dinner for delegates.

Bonds Not An Election Issue,
Say Candidates

A spirited battle is expected to mark the high school trustee election to be held at the Campbell Union Grammar school Friday, March 27, between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock p. m.

Arrayed on the side of progress are Carl B. Field and J. E. Wiesendanger, incumbents. An interview with these gentlemen revealed the fact that an immediate bond issue is not the intention of the board. "The coming election is for the purpose of selecting school trustees, not to vote bonds for a new high school," said Mr. Field.

Continuing further we find these candidates in accord in the following statement: "Recent articles in the daily press convey the idea that unless a change is made in the personnel of the board of hi school trustees an attempt to railroad through a bond election would immediately result. This is misleading; the board, in tune with the entire district, realizes that adequate school facilities must be provided at the earliest convenient date and at the least possible expense. We believe the policies of the board are entirely in keeping with that idea. Economy has been the watchword of the board, and we believe that assertion is borne out by the action of the board in securing a school site without calling for a bond election."

"Those districts comprising the Campbell Union High School district enjoy a very low high school tax rate as compared with the rate prevailing in most communities of Santa Clara county. When the construction of a new school plant becomes imperative we propose to stand on a platform of 'careful planning, building and financing, in order that heavy taxation may be avoided.'"

Opposing Wiesendanger and Field are Hyatt and Noethig. It is difficult to ascertain their true sentiments in case of election, but it is generally conceded that neither of these candidates favor a new school.

In the grammar school election S. N. Hedegard has no opponent.

The first numbers on the program were four selections by the high school band. Two overtures and two marches were played, and played well. Followed a clarinet solo by Barton Wood, which was met with hearty applause.

The glee club, composed of 30 boys and girls sang two selections, "Danny Boy" and "Dark is the Night," with orchestra accompaniment.

The orchestra rendered three selections, the last two of which, "Bacchante" and "Russland and Lundmilla" are in class C and A respectively of the state high school orchestra contest numbers.

Mildred Pyle, concert mistress, presented to A. A. Thielke, director, a beautiful bouquet of carnations in appreciation of his work with the band and orchestra.

The concert was one of the best ever staged. Every participant had his or her part down to perfection. On the production staff were Mark Pasquin, manager; Margaret Keesling, publicity, and Mildred Pyle, scenery.

MEN'S NITE IS HUGE SUCCESS MARCH 16

Last Monday evening the members of the Country Woman's club celebrated "men's night," an event which has been enjoyed annually for the past several years.

The hall was lovely with quantities of spring blossoms. Two bouquets attracting special attention were a basket of beautiful red roses and a bowl of apple blossoms and Japanese quince. The opening number of the program was piano solos by Miss Katherine Wood, who played "Impromptu in F Sharp" (Chopin) and "Clog Dance" (Howard Hansen). She also accompanied the duets sung by Mrs. Worthin Grattan and Mrs. Donald Page, who delighted the company with "When Twilight Weaves" (Gena Branscombe) and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" (Chauncey Alcott).

Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, chairman of the program, continued the entertainment with an intelligence test, the answers for which were based upon various phases of the "Emerald Isle" and its best known characters, "Pat and Mike."

Professor E. A. Rogers of the Montezuma school, who was an attendant at the recent child welfare conference in Washington, D. C., gave a very stirring address based on the subject, "Training for Citizenship." He explained the ideals he felt should be instilled in the youth of our land and outlined several plans for their fulfillment.

A pleasant social hour during which refreshments were served concluded an evening of pleasure and worth.

The new Spanish type home of Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, surrounded with blooming trees, was the setting last Tuesday for one of the lovely spring parties when Mesdames Kennedy, N. O. Best and G. E. Farley entertained at luncheon and bridge. Blending colors of tulips, lilacs and fleur-de-lis placed attractively about the rooms brought the beautiful blossom time within doors.

One long table set in the dining room was covered with a lovely green cloth with which the service of pink glassware made a pretty contrast that was further enhanced by a centerpiece of pink tulips and green tapers. Other guests were seated at tables for four, the appointments in green and white. Favors at each place were corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas with maiden-hair ferns. The menu was a dainty exemplification of the color dedicated to the good Saint Patrick.

During the luncheon each guest was asked to write an Irish limerick, which were later read and voted upon. A song entitled "Blossom Time," the words being original with Mrs. Kennedy, was sung as a duet by Mrs. R. H. Hyde and Mrs. W. C. Bohnett, with Mrs. G. S. Robson as accompanist.

Mrs. J. S. Ainsley presided at the dining table where ten guests were seated. It was centered with tulips and green candles, on a lace cloth over delicate green. The Straight Of It:

When the voters go to the polls Friday afternoon to vote for Campbell Union High School Trustees they should bear in mind the issues at stake. The incumbents, J. E. Wiesendanger and Carl B. Field, stand for a progressive, economical and sound administration of school affairs, and stand on their record to bear that out.

1. The much discussed Hagelin site was bought for $30,000.00, which is considered a fair and equitable price. It was the only suitable site available and whether it is used now or in the future it is certainly a foresighted policy to get the property before it has more than one set of buildings or before it was withdrawn from the market. The money used in its purchase was NOT secured by a bond issue but with money saved by your board in operation of the school.

2. High taxes have been one of the main topics of conversation since time immemorable. We all hate to pay them, but at the same time our children must be educated, and we must have suitable buildings in which to carry on that educational program. It is a well known fact that a new building is badly needed here, and it is a fact that we will have to build sometime. Although IMMEDIATE ACTION is NOT CONTEMPLATED, when the board feels that conditions are favorable the voters will be given an opportunity to say whether they want a new high school or not. This election IS NOT A VOTE ON BONDS, BUT A VOTE ON WHETHER YOU WANT A PROGRESSIVE OR A STAND-PAT BOARD.

3. LET'S ANALYZE THESE HIGH TAXES. DO YOU KNOW THAT THIS DISTRICT HAS ONE OF THE LOWEST HIGH SCHOOL TAX RATES IN THE COUNTY? WE HEAR TALK OF THE BENEFITS DERIVED FROM SENDING OUR CHILDREN TO NEIGHBORING SCHOOLS TO SAVE TAXES. HERE ARE COMPARATIVE FIGURES ON HIGH SCHOOL TAXES AS PAID IN THE CAMPBELL DISTRICT AND OUR NEIGHBORING DISTRICTS. THEY CAN BE VERIFIED AT THE COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE:

CAMPBELL	$.52
SANTA CLARA	.69
LOS GATOS	1.02
SAN JOSE	1.14
FREMONT	.91

SANTA CLARA IS THE ONLY ONE THAT COMES ANYWHERE NEAR CAMPBELL'S LOW RATE, AND WE ARE TOLD ON GOOD AUTHORITY THAT THEY ARE IN THE SAME POSITION WE ARE IN REGARD TO THE NEED OF MORE ROOM. THE COMPARISON IS OBVIOUS. THINK IT OVER. EVEN IF A BOND ISSUE WAS PASSED BY THE VOTERS THE HIGH SCHOOL TAXES WOULD STILL COMPARE FAVORABLY WITH THESE OTHER SCHOOLS.

HERE IS THE HIGH SCHOOL TAX RATE PAID BY SOME OF THE DISTRICTS THAT DO NOT HAVE A SCHOOL OF THEIR OWN, BUT ARE SENDING THEIR CHILDREN TO NEIGHBORING SCHOOLS:

WILLOW GLEN	$1.36
BURBANK	2.20
SUNOL	1.28

You see, it costs real money to send them to these other districts, and they have no buildings or bonds. Doesn't it rather seem to you that it is more constructive, practical and economical to provide our community with adequate school facilities after looking over these facts and figures? If you DO agree with this you will VOTE FOR WIESENDANGER AND FIELD.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

Unsolved Riddles That Still Puzzle Authorities Here and Abroad

The Lost Tribes of Israel

THE mystery of the "Ten Lost Tribes" has been a subject of absorbing interest for many centuries, but, despite the investigations of countless historians and the excavations of archeologists in all parts of the globe, the question of what became of this great mass of people is still unsolved.

Hundreds of volumes have been written on the subject and many explanations have been advanced as to the probable fate of the people who severed their alliance with the tribes of Benjamin and Judah, the latter remaining in southern Palestine and establishing Jerusalem as their capital. The Israelites who seceded went northward. Some into Samaria and others into the country which lay outside the narrow stretch of land which then made up the known world. As to the fate of those who populated Samaria some little is known, for, about eight centuries before Christ, Sargon, king of Assyria, swept down upon Samaria and carried many thousands of its population into captivity, replacing them with Babylonian and Syrian colonists and scattering the former residents throughout the kingdom so that their identity as a nation was completely lost.

With their captivity, the remaining members of the ten tribes disappeared as completely as if they had been swallowed up by the earth and no definite trace of them has ever been discovered. The descendants of the two remaining tribes were also conquered at a later period and while they, too, were finally driven away, they possessed so strong a personality and a racial cohesion that they have endured, despite the bitter oppression to which they have been subjected throughout the centuries—keeping intact their religion, their history and their customs.

This being the case, it is doubly remarkable that the other ten tribes of Judea and Benjamin should have vanished so completely. They could not all have been slain or perished in captivity, leaving no descendants and it is to be presumed that they migrated somewhere—but where? This is the question which has puzzled archeologists and historians for centuries. Some writers are of the opinion that the "lost tribes" long afterwards appeared as the lawless, gallant Anglo-Saxons, a race whose origin is still more or less obscure. Other European nations have also been "traced" to the missing Israelites, while a few commentators believe that they became merged into the nationalities of other conquerors and those of the peoples among whom they settled.

Of special interest to Americans is the opinion of a number of writers that the lost tribes in some way—probably by means of the vast overland "bridge" which later sunk below the surface of the Pacific—found their way to this country and became what were later known as "Indians" and "Aztecs." Among those who most firmly believe this were the early Spanish priests who settled in America, as also did Roger Williams, Cotton Mather and many later theologians and scientists who found Indian dialects which had words and phrases singularly suggestive of Hebrew origin.

In 1708 Charles Beatty, a missionary, wrote that he was certain that he had found traces of the "lost tribes" among the Delaware Indians, declaring that he had seen an ancient scroll that contained portions of the original Hebrew law.

But, despite all the theorizing and guessing as to the "ten lost tribes," no really authentic discoveries have been made with respect to their fate. There are many sections of the globe where they could have settled and flourished as an independent nation, yet the archives of no known people describe such a settlement and—barring the as yet unexplained origin of such races as the Indians, the Hawaiians and the Aztecs—no trace is to be found anywhere of the missing Israelites. Toil in 1495

By a statute of 1495, laborers of England were required, from the middle of March to the middle of September, to be at their work before five o'clock in the morning, and they were not to depart until between seven and eight o'clock in the evening. During this period they were to have half an hour for breakfast, an hour for dinner and half an hour for "noname." From the middle of May to the middle of August they were to have half an hour for sleep in the day. From September to March they were to be at their work "in the springing of the day, and depart not till night of the same day."

His Advice

The dean of a certain English cathedral was one day walking through the precincts when he came upon a laborer at work. The man looked at him and went on with his work without touching his cap. The dean was annoyed and stopped. "My man," he said reprovingly, "do you know who I am? I am the dean of this cathedral."

The laborer glanced at the dean, and then glanced up at the magnificent building.

"Darned good place, too," he said. "Mind you keep it!"

KIWANIS NOTES
By Heck

Dr. A. H. Lubowski of the State college gave a very interesting discourse on the political conditions in Germany today. The Hitlists, although not the ruling power in the Reichstag, made considerable gain at a recent election, increasing its members from 20 to 107. This gain was taken mostly from the communist and labor branches. This party is composed mostly of the younger generation of students and young people who do not remember the conditions before and during the war. They have not a definite policy but promise to change present conditions. They cannot fulfill such promises as they lack the ability of management. The organized labor in party policies will not permit of a war movement and are therefore the stability and peace party of the republic.

This movement, begun by Ludendorff, the war lord, has gone beyond his control. About eight percent of the population is unemployed, creating a very serious problem which gives opportunity for radical promises by those seeking power.

Warren Hyde as chairman secured a real treat for the day by getting the Cupertino school orchestra, directed by Principal Sedgewick, to furnish several numbers.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES By Helen Gartner

The girls are planning for a "tomboy day" to be held in conjunction with the boys'
"tramp day," the date of which is still undecided.

Various awards were given last Wednesday during student body meeting to those participating in the first semester's competitive teams.

The Oriole staff went to a photographer last Wednesday afternoon for a group picture. Other group pictures for the organization were taken last Thursday.

The tennis team lost Thursday afternoon to Santa Clara in the 1, 2 and 3 singles
but came right back, capturing both doubles.

Baseball team didn't do so well last Thursday, losing to Santa Clara 25-5.

Thursday afternoon the Girls' League will present for their parents the annual show entitled "A Meeting of the Young Ladies' Club." It will start at 2:40 in the grammar school auditorium with Mrs. Lillian Rae directing. Taking part are Barbara Husted, Dorothy Bauer, Barbara Kopp, Bonny Arnold, Hilda Nelson, Lena Citto, Al-
va Johnson and Esther Beer.
The League orchestra will furnish the music.

DAN YEAGER NOT CANDIDATE FOR TRUSTEE JOB

Dan A. Yeager, local rural mail carrier, who filed for eligibility to election for Campbell grammar school

trustee, has withdrawn.
Yeager was urged to run
by some of the local people, and failed to remember that he, as a civil service employe,
was ineligible for candidacy to any public office. His name will therefore not appear on the ballot at Friday's election, and he wishes to thank all interested parties who had already pledged their support.

TRUE TALES OF THE TELEPHONE

Diamonds by the thousands of dollars worth are used at the Western Electric Company's factories in spinning the web of copper wires that provide America's nation-wide telephone service.

The making of telephone wire begins at the rolling mill, where billets of copper four inches thick are rolled and re-rolled, finally emerging as quarter-inch rods.
These rods are then drawn through a series of smaller and smaller dies until the required size is reached. Sizes range from diameters of about one-sixth of an inch to .00247 of an inch, or about the thickness of a human hair. The larger gauges are drawn through specially hardened cast iron dies, but for the very fine wires, dies made by drilling holes through diamonds must be used. So accurately is the drawing apparatus adjusted that wire may be pulled through a hole smaller than itself at the rate of between 2,000 and 3,000 feet a minute.

It is estimated that the copper wire used in the outside plant of the Bell System would go around the earth more than 3,000 times.

MRS. SHELLEY ATTENDS CONFAB

Mrs. Louis Shelley, county Campfire executive, Thursday morning attended a conference in Berkeley with L.
F. Scott, national executive secretary, and Campfire officials of the bay region. Observed last week, "Campfire week" marked Mrs. Shelley's seventh year with the organization. She started with ten groups in San Jose and there are now 43 groups and 48

guardians.
